THE GENERAL EPISTLE OF JOSEPH

1 1 Joseph, bring you greetings and an servant of the Lord, To the twelve tribes of Isreal: Thanks
2 In the beginning God was the Word, and the Word was God, and the Word was with God.
3 The Word was God and the Word was with him.
4 And God created for him within himself created he them.
5 These are the sayings and the prophecies of him Jesus Christ the son of God.
6 And of the God the father, and God the son, and God the holy Spirit.
7 And God was in his creation and his creation with him, and lived with his creationuntil the day thee eat of it.
8 Which the tree of life is full of good fruit and yee eat of it yee shall gain eternal life of the father.
9 To which in life abundance shall life be given and free from the earth.
10 Which was pierced and nailed to the cross through Jesus Christ our Lord and Savior.
11 And life is unto like living water, and into the nostrils the breath of life, andhe giveth it, freely which receiveth it.
12 He that bare record of it from the father who sent him to bring life with peace to the earth.
13 Blessed be to his be unto his that believeth upon him, they shalt be saved through the holy Spirit.
14 In like manner in all things God and his creation are created; for an purpose which is to love the Lord.
15 And God has made it holy and sanctified it from heaven to be an day called the sabbath and to keep it holy.
16 Through joy and peace be to us for in all things and God created, to bare manner of good fruit unto all mankind.
17 To be worthy unto his kingdom, and give him power, and dominion over his creation, and to cast evil from the earth.
18 To show what he has done is worthy of his father, which is seated is his son withjudgeth on the right hand.
19 May there be glory, dominion, and power from the most high God, the creator of heaven and earth.
20 Whence thou hast created us from dust, and with an everlasting covenant, which isand yet is, forever will be as it was created.
21 In like manner and likeness in God created for him, he created it for his son.
22 So that he may bring life abundance in good manners and deeds unto his creation in all things.
23 Blessed be to the Lord for that was given to Abraham, Issac, and Jacob for an land flowing with milk and honey.
24 In all things shall he be called blessed, for God created us equal.
25 And true to show his servants worthy to enter into the kingdom of God.
2 1 Blessed be the Lord God for goodness, and showing his mercy.
2 For God and his son through the power of the holy Spirit, and was nailed to the cross.
3 The faithful martyr which shed his blood so that many may be saved, for unto him be grace and peace.
4 In his creation did his father bring forth all things, and has the power to creategood in all things.

5 Blessed be the Lord thy God, king of the heaven and earth.
6 The faithful and first begotten which shed his blood so that many may be saved, for unto him be grace and peace.
7 Bring thanks to the Lord for showing his power and mercy to the brethren for his name sake.
8 In the tree of life and that not hath death, he giveth life abundance in life eternal, in Jesus Christ our Lord.
9 May heaven shine upon his people and lead them not astray but to deliver them fromevil.
10 And blessed be the Lord in thy kingdom with peace and joy be with us.
11 For thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, and may they be there he who find it and live forever and ever.
12 For God is holy and true, and his son which is in heaven be thou man of righteousness for judgment shall come.
13 Deliver us out of the hand of are enemy, for we walk in, the valley of the shadowof death; and shall not want and shall fear not evil.
14 May grace come from him that sitteth upon the throne, and save us from the wrath of the lamb who sitteth upon it.
15 For God is with himself and his son which is in heaven, holy and true be thou manof righteousness.
16 And judgment shall come in an twinkling of an eye from the throne of God which isin heaven.
17 For the hour has come and judgment is at hand for the time is fully ripe in his power and glory.
18 Who shalt be able to stand the Lord and his might, and strength, and power, for wisdom comes from him.
19 For the Lord be accepted from the people he saved out of the earth.
20 And they shall be his people of the land where so ever he chooseth for his name sake.
21 And an land given by the Lord for an everlasting covenant, with his people as, ansign of remembrance, of the covenant betwixt he and them.
22 Be thanks to the Lord of hosts and blessed is the lamb of God.
23 And for mankind for an earth that yet is, is not, and has come.
24 Blessed be the people of the land where so ever he chooseth for his name sake.
25 May the Lord and his light shine and bring forth peace, forever and ever.
3 1 In an land given by God to his people, may grace and mercy, be upon them for they may succeed.
2 Blessed be the Lord for his son which was sacrificed on the cross to be good, and bring peace to an world that is not.
3 Be thanks be to Jesus Christ and blessed be mankind for an earth that yet is, is not, and has come.
4 May the tree of life bring forth life freely forever and ever.
5 These are in the days that our Lord created mankind, through himself through the power of his might and strength.
6 The day that God blessed and sanctified that all he had created in him.
7 In the day he created he blessed the earth and man to be pure and holy in all waysand like manner also.
8 May peace be with his people and grace for they are the chosen people of the promise land.

9 Which is an land flowing with milk and honey, given to them by moses.
10 For an everlasting token betwixt him and them.
11 And they will be his people and to him he will be their God.
12 And there is an heaven were there is no more tears, or sorrow but, an beginning and they shall be wiped away from your eyes.
13 Neither will you thirst no more, neither will there be death no longer, but to live and worship forever.
14 And be with God for an thousand years, ruling and reigning with him in his kingdom.
15 Let the Lord bring down his grace from heaven and may it be as an sign to his people.
16 Bring the light of his son Christ Jesus into the soul and heart of man and may itbe an light that shines.
17 May the Lord give you countenance and bring you peace.
18 And may he lift himself up and bring joy into the world.
19 And may he be an light of the world and let it be an light that shines.
20 May God be with you forever, and ever. Amen.
